From the Executive Director

The Huntington Summer Arts Festival is a distant memory of another successful season in Heckscher Park. The festival offered seven weeks of entertainment featuring music, dance, theater and family shows, truly offering something for everyone. Continued thanks to the Town of Huntington for their support and assistance, with additional thanks due to Suffolk County, New York State Council on the Arts and our lead corporate sponsor Canon, USA.

The fall brings many exciting events at Huntington Arts Council. Our dedicated staff programs these activities with the continue to showcase artists, arts organizations and educational activities. Our Main Street Gallery continues its busy schedule. Our Invitational Small Group Show Landscapes: Home and Afar features the work of three of our members through October 12. This show will be featured during our Fall Huntington Art Walk on Sunday, October 6 (see page 13). Then the popular Nightmare on Main Street returns, showcasing works by students from 6 – 12 grade from October 18 through November 16. Our On the Block, Art Auction will follow, your chance to purchase original artwork from many of Long Island’s fine creative talents.

We are expanding the concept of a gallery, using the space to focus on a variety of arts related events. Conversations in the Arts returns, a series of participatory talks with artists and scholars from our community featuring a variety of topics. Singer Songwriter Night welcomes performers and offers a showcase for original music. The December Arts Administrator Forum will be an Arts Education panel discussion creating a dialogue and exchange of ideas (see page 12).

Our NYSCA Long Island Arts Grants for the Arts program continues, with panel deliberations held this fall to decide the awardees for our 2020 cycle. HAC will also host Grant Seminars with NYFA for their fellowships for individual artists, and ART NY for NYS theatre companies (see page 14).

Our Arts in Education JOURNEY Program continues to grow with the recent addition of the Kings Park Central School District as a partner. This fall JOURNEY hosts five multi-cultural arts education workshops for teachers. We are very proud that HAC is an approved Continuing Teacher and Leader Education (CTLE) sponsor by NYS Department of Education.

HAC is proud to offer a vast array of programs and events to enrich the cultural life in Huntington and the surrounding communities. Please be a part of our vibrant community and enjoy the arts along with us.

Executive Director
Huntington Arts Council
From the Supervisor

As the weather cools, the annual Fall Festival helps to kick off the festivities from October 11th to the 14th in Heckscher Park. These three days of cultural events include a world-class carnival, two international food courts, and three stages of live entertainment.

The fun continues at our annual Halloween Parade. The parade takes place on October 31st where kids and families meet in front of the post office on Gerard Street, with the parade kicking off at 4:15pm.

November and December will also see the Town kick off the holiday season with our Holiday Parade the Saturday after Thanksgiving, as well as something new, a Winter Wonderland on Ice in Heckscher Park on December 20th, 21st and 22nd. The Winter Wonderland event will feature ice skating, a real life human-sized Snow Globe, and more!

Always be sure to make your way to Heckscher Museum, one of the great gems here in Town for their Fall offerings. Check the listings in this newspaper or visit www.Heckscher.org for more information.

These are highlights of just a few of the most popular offerings. For additional listings of diverse cultural opportunities throughout the Town browse the pages of this newspaper and continue to discover all the wonderful things Huntington has to offer.

Sincerely,

Supervisor

Internships

The Huntington Arts Council offers valuable work experience and volunteer opportunities year round for college and high school students. Apply online at huntingtonarts.org.

Thank you to our Summer 2019 interns, Krista Marino of The George Washington University, Corcoran School of Art and Christian Wong of Harborfields CSD.

Everyone at HAC is so welcoming! Although I am an intern, I always felt respected as an equal. During this internship, I was able to work one-on-one with a mentor in my desired field, while gaining valuable work experience in a nonprofit arts community. – Krista Marino

Most of my friends who intern at different organizations always tell me how monotonous their tasks are. During my time at the Huntington Arts Council, I had the opportunity to work on a wide variety of engaging projects. One project I worked on was the development of “Discovery Chests”. These boxes contain carefully selected items from a certain culture, meant to be loaned out to schools to teach students about a particular country. As I was researching and cataloging these items, I too, learned a lot about those cultures represented by each box. I’m certain that students who will use these chest will have just as great an experience finding out more about these diverse traditions, as I did.” – Christian Wong.

For more information go to huntingtonarts.org. Questions, contact: Regina Van Bell, Arts in Education Coordinator, artsined@huntingtonarts.org 631-271-8423 ext 14.

Purchase tickets to any or all of these award-winning musicals and a portion of the ticket price will be donated to the Huntington Arts Council.

“Matilda the Musical” - Thursday, November 14 at 8pm

“Million Dollar Quartet” - Thursday, January 16 at 8pm

“Anything Goes” - Sunday, May 24 at 7pm

Purchase tickets for all three shows and receive an HAC tote and t-shirt shipped directly to you!

To purchase tickets go to our website huntingtonarts.org.

For questions or more information on this opportunity contact Janna Strand, Development Director development@huntingtonarts.org or 631-271-8423 x19

Blessed with perfect weather and superb artistry, the final weekend of the 54th Huntington Summer Arts Festival concluded with a stunning multi-media performance “Landscape of Guitar” by Patchouli & Terra Guitarrar on Fri., Aug. 9, a brilliant dance concert by world-renowned Taylor 2 on Sat., Aug. 10, and a rousing finale (and salute to Woodstock’s 50th) with Prof. Louie & the Crowmatix and the Woodstock Brass on Sun. Aug. 11.

Once again, the Festival’s eclectic schedule raced by in a whirlwind of music, dance and entertainment – 42 concerts and shows on the Chapin Rainbow Stage in Heckscher Park, plus five more at the Robert W. Krueger Bandstand in Northport Harbor - something different each night from June 25 thru Aug. 11. The Festival is an extraordinary gift from the Town of Huntington to its residents and the entire L.I. Community. No other festival on Long Island brings so much variety and world-class talent to the region. The Huntington Arts Council is proud of its stewardship and privileged to curate and present this annual celebration of the arts.

We thank the Town Supervisor & the Town Council for their support, and the Dept.’s of Parks & Rec., Gen. Services, and Public Safety for their efforts and cooperation. We also thank the County of Suffolk, the New York State Council on the Arts (NYSCA) for their support. Special thanks to Presenting Sponsor Canon, USA for its continued commitment. Thank you also to our concert sponsors: Daniel Gale Sotheby’s International Realty, Folk Music Society of Huntington, the Mid Atlantic Arts Foundation, Musicians Performance Trust Fund, Philips Boyne, Start To Finish Remodeling & Handyman, and Weber Law Group. Thank you also to: D’Addario & Co., Connolly Music/König & Meyer/ Realist Microphones, Korg USA, Samson/ Hartke and Bob Murphy’s Violin Shop.

Our deepest gratitude to all the talented touring artists and ensembles who graced the Chapin Rainbow Stage. Equally important, thanks to all local performing ensembles who each year merit high praise and appreciation for their superb performances: Huntington Community Band, Northport Community Band, Long Island Dance Consortium, Plaza Theatrical Productions, and many other local artists and ensembles. Kudos to the intensely skilled and hard-working technical staff who make it all seem so effortless; and to the Summer Scape Volunteers for their devotion and time. Thanks to our Summer Interns – Aidan Bryant and Yasin Lamour – and the volunteer photographers from the Huntington Camera Club for helping us document the concerts. HAC’s Board of Directors and dedicated staff are gratefully recognized and appreciated. The Folk Music Society of Huntington and the Friends of the Coltrane Home merit special thanks for their collaborative efforts.

Last and certainly not least, a huge THANKS to you the public! The success and longevity of the HSAF would not be possible without the support of you, our audience. You’ve shown you care about live performances by attending, enjoying and applauding the artistry you are witness to for more than 50 years now. We appreciate your support and look forward to seeing you next summer!

Tuesday Family Night Crafts

For the third year in a row, families and children participated in making a FREE craft prior to each of the Family Night Shows at the Huntington Summer Arts Festival. Each night starting at 6pm and ending a few minutes before showtime, kids used their creativity to make themed crafts such as harmonicas, butterflies and monkey hats.

“Meet the Artist” Community Engagement Events

A broad range of “Meet the Artist” events took place in tandem with 2019 Huntington Summer Arts Festival concerts. An important component of the HSAF, these events are designed to engage with our community and audiences by presenting visiting artists in unique settings and formats. A total of 19 “Meet the Artist” events took place this past summer, serving more than 6,000 individuals. Many are “not open to the public” events held in smaller venues, and target audiences of students, the elderly or people with disabilities who may not otherwise be able to attend a concert. Others involve larger audiences enjoying supplemental performances or pre-concert activities related thematically to an evening performance. Whether a visit to the VA Hospital in Northport, interactive workshops & jam sessions for students, a world music performance for students at USDAN Summer Camp for the Arts, or Folk Festival song swaps and showcases in the park, all demonstrate both the artists’ efforts as well as HAC’s mission to reach out and bring the arts into the larger community.

Whether exploring poetry, storytelling, or speech presentation connecting to any curricular subject, Multicultural Voices celebrates the cultures of all students. This program uses interactive theater, voice and movement techniques to help students explore interpersonal communication and improve intelligibility, while building confidence in English. Cross-cultural competence promotes mutual understanding and acceptance thru different and common cultural ground. Teachers will explore this concept by engaging in activities and art making, in the form of a collage, that open up the focus of their interactions with students by developing a new narrative about culture. This interdisciplinary approach is easily translatable to the classroom. Resources for further exploration and education will be provided.

Patty Eljaiek is an artist, consultant, mom, and abuela, and the creator and director of the first Summer Arts Camp for children in Westbury.

Culture Shapes Dance
Date: 11/7/19

Is Dabbing a cultural dance form? You bet it is. This literacy inspired dance unit will open your students’ minds to new cultures, such as that of the Iroquois Tribe, which in turn will allow them to see their own values more clearly. Join Kendra Mace Clark, to explore how empathy for others, understanding of ourselves, and events around us are the very foundation for how artists create their work. Workshop includes demonstration of how dance is used to teach classroom curriculum, movement exploration to use with students, and a Q&A.

Kendra Mace Clark is a NY based choreographer and dance educator. Clark collaborates with classroom teachers to develop and implement arts-integrated Units of Study.

Aussie Funk Jam Teacher Workshop
(Didgeridoo Techniques, History and Australian Culture)
Date: 11/14/19

The didgeridoo has been played by Aboriginal Australians for at least 1500 years. It’s a gateway to educational lessons in geography, history, science, culture, art, and reading. And most of all, it’s extremely fun to play! Teachers will be taught to make and play their own didgeridoos while learning about Australia’s history and culture.

Rob Thomas has been making and playing didgeridoos for over 20 years. He is a recording artist and has produced music for numerous films.

Cultural Connections Using African-Inspired Masks

In this workshop you will create your own mask out of clay with tribal undertones adding your own cultural connection. Participants are encouraged to bring anything that may be used as a texture and an apron.

2020 Grants
Panels are in session and reviewing the applications for the 2020 cycle. Once recommendations have been made, the Huntington Arts Council Board of Directors will review to approve the panel recommendations for funding. Awardees will be notified in early November.

2019 DEC in the Spotlight
Creative Communities grants support accessible arts projects that enhance the cultural climate in our neighborhoods and communities.

Westbury Arts Inc., a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization delivers arts and cultural programs that connect, educate, and inspire the community. “We envision a community where art and culture are valued and instill a sense of belonging and pride. Our motto: Together we create Westbury.”

Westbury Arts received funding through the Creative Communities grant for their “Out of Many-One” series. “Out of Many-One” was a celebration of Westbury’s diversity with events featuring multiple artistic fields in honor of Black History, Women’s History, LGBTQ Pride and Hispanic Heritage Month. Highlights include African dancing and performance by the Uniondale “Rhythm of the Knight” Show Choir at the Church of the Advent for Black History Month. Women’s History events at Reflections Hair Salon and the Yes We Can Center in Westbury included spoken word and a panel discussion on the Me Too movement.

Everyday Pride in honor of LGBTQ Pride month, was held at Nana’s Cafe in Westbury, with an exhibit of original art that explored how LGBTQ folks express pride on a day-to-day basis. The Hispanic Heritage Month event, in collaboration with the Latino Advisory Council, created a “children’s village,” or Aldea Infantil, providing interactive, multidisciplinary arts activities for children and adult companions/caregivers.

Creative Learning grants support the role the arts play in engaging K-12 public school students and lifelong learners through sequential, hands-on art instruction for rich artistic learning experiences.

Anu Annam has been a lead teacher for 15 years, professional artist for 25, and believes that the most important thing about creating art is to enjoy it. “Inevitably, the challenge of certain art-making skills may be frustrating, and joining an art class can be intimidating for some. I have found this in working with developing and special needs students at Art League of LI, North Shore High School’s Continuing Education Department, the Spirit of Huntington and in my private teaching practice.”

Anu received a 2019 Creative Learning Grant for her program, Comic Book Club, a sequential art class for teens. In the fun simplicity of creating a comic book, students tackled story development, literacy, design, composition, color theory, figure drawing, protecting the rights of their work and met industry pros, in a fully-funded, 10-week course.

The course concluded with a Comic Book Release Party where students received prizes and shared their books with their community. The focus was on empowering girls in the comic workforce and an open-to-all genders class. Boys and girls learned to respect each other’s intellect and boundaries in a friendly, positive way.

Students were invited to participate in Nightmare on Main Street with art inspired by the theme of Halloween! “We celebrate by turning ourselves into whatever and whoever we’d like to be on October 31st. Scary, silly, creepy or beautiful, what would you want to transform yourself into during this time of year?” was the question our Juror Stephanie Buscema posed as inspiration for the show. Buscema, a resident of Huntington Ny, is a painter, illustrator and designer working traditionally with paints on paper. Stephanie is a small business owner of Kitschy Witch Designs creating whimsical textile prints and designing vintage inspired clothing and accessories.
